

In line with European Union regulations, Finland has achieved a significant milestone in energy management by installing smart meters in 100% of households. These advanced meters measure electricity usage every hour, ...

The Ministry of Economic Affairs and Employment of Finland has opened a consultation on the draft Energy and Climate Strategy, which aims to meet the EU's climate and energy targets ...

The EU depends on nuclear power for about one-quarter of its electricity, and a higher proportion of base-load power. Nuclear provides about half the low-carbon electricity. Very different energy policies pertain across the ...

"Finland's competitiveness is largely due to the fact that we have pure energy, and in fact, electricity is most advantageous in countries with the least fossil in the energy system," the ...

The Regulation on energy statistics (2008/1099/EC) obliges Statistics Finland to report data, of which the statistics on production of electricity and heat are an important part, to the EU.

The dynamics of the electricity market in Europe in 2025 Primary electricity sources in Europe Europe's electricity market is characterized by a diverse array of energy sources. The main source of electricity across the ...

Industry Setting and enforcing the Code We set the Electricity Industry Participation Code 2010 - the rules that govern nearly every aspect of New Zealand's electricity industry. It's each industry participant's responsibility ...

