

The classical harmonic analysis (CHA) method only can be used to obtain the harmonic constants (amplitude and phase) of ocean tide loading displacement (OTLD). In fact, there are significant seasonal variations in the harmonic constants of OTLD. A moving harmonic analysis (MHA) method is proposed, which can effectively capture the seasonal variation of ...

"Harmonic" means a component frequency of a harmonic motion (as of an electromagnetic wave) that is an integral multiple of the fundamental frequency. For the power distribution system in Hong Kong, the fundamental frequency is 50 Hz. "Installation" means the wiring installation together with any equipment connected or Interview. Quite straight forward and easy process, very friendly interviewers, transparent process, 3 rounds of interviews, 2 technical and one ...

Determine which system buses in the facility are susceptible to harmonic distortions. Collect harmonic information for all nonlinear loads. Obtain vital information on the maximum and minimum short circuit fault levels, as well as ...

Designing filtering solution to mitigate harmonics problem in power supply system is not easy. System resonance may be resulted if harmonic filters are not properly chosen or sized. There are a number of ways to achieve harmonic mitigation ...

Harmonics not only waste energy, but they reduce equipment life, electrical system reliability, system efficiency and equipment productivity. Harmonics can cause all kinds of trouble such as conductors overheating, nuisance tripping of ...

The main geographical focus of the Company's activities is in Hong Kong, Macau and China. ... Limited is a Hong Kong based distributor of high quality Motor Control Panels, Harmonic Filters Modules, MV ... and Saftronics 2S soft drive, Block harmonic filter modules, NTC voltage dip compensators, VIMPEX liquid leak detection systems, T-T ...

For example, on a 50 Hz supply, the 5th harmonic is 250 Hz, 7th harmonic is 350 Hz. Other sources of harmonics in buildings include computer equipment, VSDs, ACVV/VVVF lift drive systems and electronic ballasts etc. The presence of harmonics on the power distribution system will definitely reduce the efficiency of the system.

General understanding of various types of earthing systems their merits and demerits (e.g. TT, TN-S, TN-C, TN-C-s etc.), in particular the system adopted in Hong Kong. Selection of protective conductors and earth
