

With a permanent collection of over 4.5 million objects, London's Victoria & Albert Museum is the world's largest museum of decorative arts and design. You would need many years - maybe a lifetime - to look through this ...

Join our guide to visit the remains of the Roman city wall to find a lost fort and hidden amphitheatre - where brave gladiators and acrobats entertained the raucous crowds. Discover Roman history on this 60-minute ...

Maya and Aztec cultures are well represented in the British Museum's collections, which include (in the Mexican Gallery) a Mixtec codex, life-size stone sculptures, carved lintels from the Maya city of Yaxchilan and a ...

The collection of the British Museum is frequently under fire, and for good reason, but it's also simply one of the most breathtaking museums on the planet. Hits include the Rosetta Stone and the Parthenon Marbles.

British Museum, in London, comprehensive national museum with particularly outstanding holdings in archaeology and ethnography. Among its most famous pieces are the Elgin Marbles, the Rosetta Stone, and treasures ...

The management team at the British Museum in London has seen many changes since the scandal over a curator's theft of 2,000 ancient pieces exposed flaws in the management of the collection in 2023; starting with the ...

London's Victoria and Albert Museum has brought together a collection of more than one million objects to view in a new digital platform allowing people from around the world to explore its treasures. The museum, ...

The Museum of London was created in 1976 by combining the collections held by the City Corporation at the Guildhall Museum and those of the London Museum. Previously located on London Wall, a street in the City of ...

The collection of Hans Sloane, a notable London physician and collector, really forms the basis of the natural history collection in the museum. Sloane's will stipulated that the collection should remain together, preferably ...

London's Victoria and Albert Museum has brought together a collection of more than one million objects to view in a new digital platform allowing people from around the world to explore its treasures.

Join us on a guided walk through the City of London's landmarks to explore how the Second World War impacted ordinary Londoners. This 60-minute walk for primary school age children and their families, will uncover some of the lesser ...

Museum of london collections

Some of the records in our collections contain sensitive and personal data that we have a legal responsibility to control access to. In these circumstances, staff may search the collection on ...

Museum of london collections

Web: <https://www.kindanewdecor.co.za>

