Can solar power boost economic growth in Sierra Leone?

Solar power has the potential to greatly increase energy access in Sierra Leone and accelerate its economic growth. Both internationally financed central power systems like Solar Park Freetown and private solar setups in rural areas will create jobs and provide a stable source of energy for millions.

Will Solar Park Freetown bolster Sierra Leone's shaky central power supplies?

In addition to providing manufacturing jobs to people who need it, Solar Park Freetown will bolster Sierra Leone's shaky central power supplies. Much of Freetown's power comes from the Bumbuna Dam, which, according to a 2011 World Bank report, produces less than 20 megawatts of power during the dry season.

Will Abu Dhabi help Sierra Leone build a new solar power plant?

The Abu Dhabi Fund for Development announced a new loan program that would provide Sierra Leone with Dh 33 million, or about $8.9 million, to construct a new solar power plant near Freetown, the capital and a major urban area.

Why do Sierra Leoneans need solar power?

For the 97 percent of rural Sierra Leoneans who lack access to the grid, individual solar home systems and decentralized generators can provide crucial electric power for a multitude of purposes. In town centers, street lamps run on solar power, and solar radios help citizens communicate and learn about current events.

Will a new power plant increase electricity supply in Sierra Leone?

Overall, the facility is expected to raise the operational electricity supply in Sierra Leone by about 30%. According to the statement, only 23% of the population of the country currently has access to electricity.

Does Sierra Leone have a weak electricity grid?

Sierra Leone's grid only provides 13 megawatts per million people, about 3.5 times less than nations with similar socio-economic conditions. The weak electrical grid forces many citizens to purchase expensive oil and gas, and electric power remains scarce. New central solar power initiatives will help solve this problem.
