Solar energy - Electricity Generation: Solar radiation may be converted directly into solar power (electricity) by solar cells, or photovoltaic cells. In such cells, a small electric voltage is generated when light strikes the junction between a metal and a semiconductor (such as silicon) or the junction between two different semiconductors. (See photovoltaic effect.) ...

A worldwide first, Saint-Pierre is the only power plant in the world with a turbine using bioethanol. When this liquid fuel burns it releases hot gases, and it is this pressure that drives the turbine. This turbine is connected to a generator which then enables the mechanical energy to be transformed into electrical energy.
