Does Thailand have a Bess market?

Thailand has a low BESS market attractiveness, ranking fourth on the BMAI score. Through a pilot project, The Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand--a state-owned electricity generation authority in Thailand--operated a BESS in the Mae Hong Son, Chaiphum, and Lopburi regions, which have a high share of renewable energy.

Can Bess create business opportunities in Thailand?

Watcharin Boonyarit, director of solar energy development at the Department of Alternative Energy Development and Efficiency, noted the potential for BESS to create business opportunities as Thailand transitions to renewable power sources. "We should not only import BESS but also consider new investment projects in this battery business."

How many Bess projects were approved in Thailand in 2022?

In 2022, the Thai government approved 24 BESS projects, all of which were located alongside solar operations. Their total combined storage capacity was 994 MW. Interestingly, this allowed generators to sign semi-firm power purchase agreements (PPAs) with the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT) with minimum availability guarantees.

How much does Bess cost?

Suttichai Premrudeepreechacharn from Chiang Mai University's Faculty of Engineering highlighted the expected drop in BESS production costs, which could fall below US$100 per kilowatt-hour from the current nearly US$200 per kilowatt-hour.
